

COP12, COP/MOP2 SIDE EVENT

Bridging over climate change and development? - experiences in the Asia-Pacific region

Friday, 10 November 2006

11:15 to 12:45,

Venue: Acacia

Programme:

Time	Title	Speaker	Affiliation
11:15-11:20	Opening Remarks	Mr. Taka Hiraishi	Chair of the 16 th AP Seminar on Climate Change
11:20-11:30	Integrating Climate Change into Development and Governance? – Region's current status, challenges and effective policy tools	Mr. Makoto Kato	OECC, AP Seminar Secretariat
11:30-11:40	Indonesia's Experiences in mainstreaming climate change in its national and local governance	Mr. Dadang Hilman	Ministry of Environment, Republic of Indonesia
11:40-11:50	Roles of Development Planning Agency, Malaysia's case	Mr. Muthusamy	Economic Planning Agency, Malaysia
11:50-12:00	Role of Development Assistance Agencies	(tbd)	(tbd)
12:00-12:10	Comments from a Development Expert	Mr. Ryokichi Hirono	Professor Emeritus, Seikei Univ.
12:10-12:20	Comments from a Climate Change Expert	Dr. Ancha Srinivasan	IGES, Principal Research Fellow / Acting Project Leader
12:20-12:40	Discussion on "bridging over climate change and development"
12:40-12:45	Wrap-up/Closing Remarks	Mr. Taka Hiraishi

For contact:

Makoto KATO (kato@oecc.or.jp)
Satoshi IEMOTO (iemoto@oecc.or.jp)

REFRESHMENTS WILL BE SERVED!

Event theme:

Development is one of the biggest global challenges and has a significant impact on the effectiveness and efficiency of efforts to address climate change. The opposite is also true. The session focuses on governance aspects as an essential interface of climate change and development. The result of questionnaires conducted at the 16th AP Seminar shows countries' interests in Integrative Approach, and suggests coordinated efforts should be made in respective arenas.

Essential Background:

The Side Event is part of organizers' initiatives to contribute to sharing views, experiences and information on domestic and international efforts. Following to the previous Side Event at SB24, and with resources from various regional and international initiatives, this session is expected to provide opportunities to strengthen partnerships between different communities and stakeholders.

Your participation in discussion is appreciated.

The Event is supported and jointly organized by ...

Ministry of the Environment
Japan

Overseas Environmental Cooperation Center

National Institute for Environmental Studies

Refreshments will be served.

